Do you have a vision for your organization? More importantly, do you have one for yourself, one that gets you excited every morning and keeps you open to possibilities?

Dewitt Jones is one of America's top professional photographers. In his career with National Geographic, he found that the creative tools he employed in his work had an even deeper application in his life.

Too often, we get caught up with a different view of the world, one that pushes us in the direction of finishing first at all costs. Jones reminds us to choose to see brighter possibilities. Do we really believe they're there? He assures us that we can see them once we believe. And when we believe, we connect with a vision that gives us the courage to soar.

Viewers will learn & have time to discuss in small groups these seven key concepts:

- Believe it and you'll see it
- Recognize Abundance
- Look for Possibilities
- Unleash your energy to fix what's wrong
- Ride the changes
- Take yourself to your edge
- Be your best for the world
