

PROPOSAL:

Ryan Haffey of Nebraska Neon Sign Co. requests a certificate of appropriateness for a sign at 801 R Street, the Hilton Garden Inn, in the Haymarket Landmark District.

DISCUSSION:

A tenant in the lower level of the Hilton Garden Inn, facing the 8th Street sidewalk below the west dock, requests a business identification sign.

The sign is to be affixed to the underside of the dock, in front of the aviation-cable screen for the lower level. The height of the sign would be 25" and its length 54 inches, with a white-painted aluminum backing. The inscriptions and graphics would combine painted and applied vinyl elements.

The Haymarket special sign district allows affixing signs to railings, docks, and similar structures. The type faces and graphic elements of this sign are contemporary but its overall type is similar to a standard wall sign, one of the preferred types in the district. The location, on a dock railing of a contemporary building, certainly does not interfere with any significant historic architecture of the district. The modest size seems acceptable given the scale of the building and appropriate for its location close to pedestrians.

Recommended finding:

The proposed sign is consistent with the Haymarket sign guidelines and compatible within the overall character of the Haymarket Landmark District.

Recommended action:

Approval of a certificate of appropriateness.
