Planning Department and County Commissioners,

I want to say Thank You to the Health Department for doing their homework and listening to the sound experts at the April 16th working group meeting. Resulting in setting accurate noise levels. Health Departments serve and protect people and their health. .As stated by Scott Holmes, environmental health division manager for the Lincoln-Lancaster County Health Department, said the proposed rules were based on recent studies evaluating the potential health impacts of the constant, percussive sound made by wind turbines, which can cause annoyance and sleep disturbance. Setting the day time limit of 75 decibels and night time limit of 50 decibels is not safe. Wind Turbines need to be sited in the right areas.

I am not opposed to wind. I am opposed to wind in the wrong places.

Thank You
