

Submitted via email.
June 29, 2015

I am writing today about the set backs for the industrial wind turbine's. The noise produced by these turbines is not an agricultural sound. The noise limits of 40dba day time and 37dba may be acceptable but they must to be set from property lines not dwellings.

The distance set backs of 1000 feet or three times the turbine height is too close . I don't know of farm structures that even resemble a wind turbine. All set backs need to be from property lines. Wind turbines should not be allowed to be able to restrict property owners rights. I understand the need for renewable energy but I don't believe these wind turbines are the answer.

I would like to say thank you to the working group for the time and effort they put in to this project.

Larry Allder